THE CITY

Photo: Roberto Ferrari

Rimini belongs to the Emilia-Romagna region of Italy and is the capital city of the Province of Rimini. It is located between the rivers Marecchia and Ausa and is a city of contrasts. In the centre, for instance, ancient narrow streets and cosmopolitan squares, such as Piazza Cavour, Paizza Tre Martini and Corso d'Augusto are in contrast to the tourist zones and beach areas where lively bars and restaurants attract families and couples alike. Rimini is divided into districts, each with its own unique character: Bellariva, Comune di Rimini, Marebello, Marina Centro, Mirabelle, Rivabelle, Rivazzurra, San Giuliano Mare, Torre Pedera and Viserba. The must see' attractions include the beautiful Tiberius Bridge, which dates from the 1st Century AD, the Pigna Fountain and the Great Arch of Augustus.
