A Coruña is a busy city at the very tip of Galicia. This is a perfect place to enjoy a gentle stroll along the streets and avenues, discover Roman architecture as well as modern innovative buildings. The atmosphere in the many magnificent town squares is excellent and full of the joys of life on a hot summer's day. Outside the town centre the beaches, the marina, the fishing port and the commercial port still play a very important role for the people of A Coruña.

THE CITY

Francisco Javier Gil/Shutterstock.com

The first impression of the provincial capital of Galicia is big, bright, modern and spacious all at the same time. A Coruña is home to many magnificent squares, a fantastic medieval quarter and an amazing array of different architectural styles. The medieval quarter contains most of the historical monuments built before the 19th century together with many buildings dating back to the Modernist period.

The fascinating waterfront is always buzzing with life and excitement, as it still plays a very important role in the city's everyday life. It is home to fishing boats as well as cruise liners and yachts. The city is also well known for its excellent gastronomy which emphasizes the quality and freshness of produce.

DO & SEE

Gena Melendrez/Shutterstock.com

In order to explore the laid-back Galician lifestyle you need to take a stroll down the new and very attractive promenade. This will give you plenty of opportunities for sightseeing and also a chance to enjoy the fantastic atmosphere of the city.

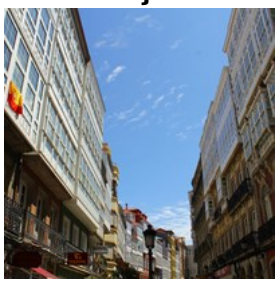

Torre de Hercules

Torre de Hercules might be the world's oldest light house. It was built by the Romans in the 2nd century and is well worth a visit for those interested in learning more about the city's history and enjoying an excellent view over A Coruña.

Cabo Finisterre

In Roman times, this rocky peninsula was believed to be the edge of the world. Today, it's the last stop for many pilgrims walking the Camino, and makes for a stunning day trip. Only 3.5km away from the town of Fisterra, lose yourself to the beauty of this ancient place. Explore cliffs and tucked-away beaches, climb Mount Facho and visit the lighthouse, or search for the various Celtic ruins which dot the land - including the tomb of Orcabella, a Celtic crone goddess.

SHOPPING

Catarina Belova/Shutterstock.com

A Coruña is an intriguing commercial showcase in which department stores co-exists with small and specialized enchantment stores. Although the visitor has several big shopping centres at their disposal, the Galician capital is famous for its antiques, fashion, jewellery shops and ceramics.

Stores of luxury along with crafts stores, among others, exhibit in their showcases designs of silver, jet and Galician ceramics. Lacework from Galicia is widely known, however, the most popular craft is embroidery which is often done in the family. Embroidery has been raised to the level of a veritable art in two thoroughly Spanish domains: firstly, in the ornaments used for pasos during Holy Week and secondly in bullfighters' costumes.

The shopping centres in A Coruña are split into zones, and the Obelisk zone is the biggest of the shopping malls where all the usual designer clothes, sunglasses and everything else under the sun are available. Other malls include the Picasso district and Calle Barcelona.

TOURIST INFORMATION

Anibal Trejo/Shutterstock.com

Passport/Visa

Spain can be visited visa-free for up to 90 days by citizens of most European countries, Australia, New Zealand, Japan, South Korea, Taiwan, Malaysia, Israel, UAE and most countries in America. If you are unsure whether or not you need to apply for a visa, we recommend contacting the embassy or consulate in your country. International (non-Schengen) travelers need a passport that is valid for at least 3 months after the end of their intended trip in order to enter the Schengen zone. Citizens of Schengen countries can travel without a passport, but must have a valid ID with them during their stay.

Best Time to Visit

The most lively months in A Coruña are between June and September, as this is when one will be able to enjoy the warm weather as well as a variety of fiestas and festivals at their best. If you are looking to spend time at the beaches in a relaxed atmosphere you should visit in September, as the majority of tourists will have left and the weather remains pleasant.
