THE ISLAND

manfredrichter/Pixabay

Rhodes, the largest of the Dodecanese islands, is not an ordinary holiday resort but a cosmopolitan place with an international reputation: the charming medieval town, the sophisticated Lindos, the irresistible valley of the butterflies, the high-quality lifestyle and the long golden sand beaches make the days and nights in the island unforgettable.

Rhodes is a combination of medieval tradition and modern style which impresses and fascinates visitors of all kinds. At the homonym capital of Rhodes, the romantic medieval Old Town holds amazing historical buildings, and the modern New Town also has its archaeological findings. Millions of tourists walk through the narrow streets of the Old Town every year, to visit the museums, the churches and the fortress walls, just following the steps of the knights.

Together with an intensive nightlife in Faliraki, crystal water and warm locals, the island makes for a great choice in holiday!

DO & SEE

Bennian/Shutterstock.com

Rhodes offers a variety of activities all year round: the island's natural beauty, ancient monuments from its long and often turbulent history, and a wonderful atmosphere aided in no small part by the warm hospitality of the locals.

Palace of the Grand Master of the Knights of Rhodes

Originally a medieval castle called Castello, it was destroyed in 1856 and resurrected in 1939. Now, it's the crown jewel of the Old Town. Inside, ancient mosaics bedeck the floors, and you'll find a unique collection of 16th and 17th-century Western furniture. On a hot day, the castle's massive walls provide a much-needed reprieve from the heat.

Valley of the Butterflies

More than 600,000 visitors — both Greek and foreign — flock here to witness the incredible natural spectacle, located 26km from the city centre. From July to September, butterflies swarm in their thousands, seeking cool and damp conditions. In the mornings, you'll see them clustered in hundreds on the branches.

Lindos

Lindos might be small, but it's brimming with character. A must-visit is the local Acropolis — not just a standout in Lindos but one of the island's most iconic archaeological gems. Home to monumental 4th-century gates and ancient reliefs dating back to 280 B.C., it's a step back in time. Down the hill, you'll find the 14th-century Castle of the Knights of St John. And don't miss the frescoes in the Virgin Mary of Lindos Church, dating from the 15th century.

Mandraki Harbour & Myth Colossus of Rhodes

Stroll along Mandraki Harbour for unbeatable views and a brush with legend. This charming harbour — adorned with iconic deer statues and medieval windmills — is the reputed home of the Colossus of Rhodes. Standing at 34 metres, this bronze tribute to the Greek sun-god Helios was a marvel of its time, crafted by Chares of Lindos in 280 BC.

Old Town

Discover Rhodes' Old Town, a labyrinth of history and romance. Wander its cobbled streets, whose architecture whispers tales from the Byzantine era to Ottoman rule. This UNESCO World Heritage Site, built between 1309 and 1523, offers a two-fold experience: the high town to the north and the lower town to the south. From the grandeur of its city walls to the ancient allure of the Street of the Knights, you'll be transported to a bygone era at every turn.

Address: Old Town, Rhodes

St Paul's Bay

St Paul's Bay, snuggled against the southeast coast near the enchanting village of Lindos, is a haven of sun and sea. The bay is split into two coves: the southern one buzzes with activity and offers amenities like sun loungers and a café, while its northern counterpart offers a quieter, more tranquil vibe. With water so irresistibly turquoise, you'll find folks diving off nearby rocks. Whether you're a couple, a family, or a band of friends, this is your invitation to bask and snorkel in unparalleled beauty.

Archaeological Museum

The Archaeological Museum of Rhodes isn't just a treasure trove of artefacts — it's a piece of history itself. Originally the Hospital of the Knights, this medieval gem was completed in 1489 by Grand Master d'Aubusson and remains remarkably well-preserved. Wander through rooms filled with intriguing finds from Rhodes and its neighbouring islands, including the captivating Statue of the Crouching Aphrodite and the age-old Pyxis of the Fikellura type. Don't miss the iconic Head of Helios.

Church of Panagia

Nestled in the heart of Lindos, right by the main square, the Church of Panagia (Our Lady) stands as a serene sanctuary. This 13th-century church features a whitewashed walls and red Byzantine tiles — the epitome of Greek charm. What sets it apart, however, is its distinctive high-rise stone campanile tower, a feature typical of Rhodian and Dodecanese architecture. Completing the picture is the church's intricate cross-shaped plan, crowned by an octagonal dome and a tranquil courtyard.

BEACH LIFE

Jonas Spott/unsplash

Crystal waters, golden sand, sunny days and unforgettable beach-moments! The beach in front of the hotel Mediterranean in the city of Rhodes, is one of the best spots of the island.

Ixia Beach

Ixia Beach is a haven for thrill-seekers and wave-chasers. Situated just 4 km from Rhodes, this pebble-lined coast is perfect for surfing. You'll be captivated by the beach's azure waters and feel the rush of its strong winds and towering waves. But be warned, the sea deepens quickly, making it less ideal for families with young children.

Kallithea Beach

Kallithea Beach is where Rhodes' elite come to unwind — a less crowded oasis that's perfect for snorkelling and scuba diving. Located in a bay that's a mere echo of its bustling neighbour, Anthony Quinn Bay, Kallithea offers a tranquil yet upscale atmosphere. The area boasts plenty of shaded parking spots and a beach that harks back to the glamour of the 1920s. The waters are crystal-clear, and the sunbeds are plentiful. Complete the experience with a coffee or cocktail from the attentive staff at the local café, and you've found yourself the perfect seaside hideaway.

Faliraki Bay

In Faliraki, the beach is more than just sand and sea — it's an all-day party that attracts young thrill-seekers from across the globe. Come for the waves, stay for the high-octane adventures.

Address: Faliraki, Rhodes

Plakia Beach

Plakia Beach offers a secluded slice of paradise. The sand is as soft as it is white, framed by rugged rocks — perfect for a lazy day of sunbathing under a parasol. It never gets too busy, even at the height of summer, making it an idyllic spot for swimming or snorkelling. For your convenience, there's an outdoor shower, and when hunger strikes, you can grab a refreshing drink or tasty snack at the nearby café.

DINING

jcvelis/Pixabay

Rhodes' culinary scene is a delightful fusion of Middle Eastern, African, and Italian influences, providing a unique local twist to traditional Greek cuisine and perfectly mirroring the island's rich history and diverse cultural influences. Among Rhodes' must-try dishes are 'pitaroudia', chickpea fritters, 'matsi', a local pasta traditionally enjoyed with melted butter and cheese, and 'melekouni', a sweet Rhodian treat made from sesame seeds, almonds, and thyme honey.

Tamam (Rhodes)

Discover an unforgettable dining experience at Tamam, located in the heart of Rhodes' Old Town. This charming restaurant boasts private dining rooms adorned with hints of oriental decor, creating an intimate yet cosmopolitan atmosphere. Savour a culinary fusion of Greek and international dishes, each one a testament to the artistry of the chefs. Here, each dish is a celebration, whether you opt for a seafood speciality or a comforting classic like feta wrapped in eggplant.

Restaurant Wonder (Rhodes)

Tucked away in the new town, Wonder offers a culinary treasure worth seeking out. Opened in 2011, it has earned rave reviews, notably in the Alpha Guide, and for good reason. The menu is a fusion masterpiece, blending Mediterranean, Baltic Sea and Asian influences into delectable dishes. The ambience matches the food in elegance, providing an ideal setting for special occasions. Though it may be a bit of a trek from central locations, customers insist the journey — much like the slightly higher price tag — is fully justified by the gastronomic experience.

BARS & NIGHTLIFE

bbernard/Shutterstock.com

Rhodes comes alive when the sun sets and the heat of the day wanes, offering a kaleidoscope of nightlife experiences that cater to all tastes. Whether you're drawn to the historic allure of the Old Town's 'bar street', the chic appeal of Ixia's upscale clubs, or the authentic Greek evenings in Ialysos, the island promises unforgettable nocturnal adventures. Miltiadou Street in the Old Town and Orfanidou Street in Niochori stand as the city's main epicentres of nightlife, but don't let that limit you. From beach bars in Faliraki and Lindos that blur the line between day and night to a multitude of venues across the city, Rhodes truly has something for everyone.

Amphitheatre Club

Amphitheatre Club stakes its claim as one of Rhodes' most iconic outdoor venues, boasting a capacity for roughly 2,000 revellers. Not only is the club a hotspot for electrifying nights, top-notch drinks and pulsating music, but it also offers a scenic panorama that's hard to rival. Perched above the age-old, whitewashed village of Lindos, the club provides a visual feast — the twinkling sea, the charming village, and the crowning glory of the ancient Acropolis. A night here is not just a party; it's an experience enveloped in the rich tapestry of Greek history and natural beauty.

Oasis Beach

Oasis Bar captures the essence of laid-back beachside enjoyment. Regular quiz nights and dance parties add a lively twist, but it's the relaxed atmosphere that keeps people coming back. With a beach just steps away, it's easy to go for a quick swim before settling back with a drink. The menu offers quintessential beach fare like pizza, gyros and salads, all complemented by a broad drink selection.

Opening hours: Daily 10am-7pm

Courtyard Bar

The Courtyard Bar has earned its reputation as one of Lindos' friendliest haunts. With owner Jack often serenading guests on his Greek Bouzouki during live music nights, the atmosphere is warm and inviting. Whether you're grooving to the tunes or simply enjoying a cocktail, you're sure to feel right at home. The roof terrace offers sweeping views that add to the bar's charm. Don't miss their Sunday Greek Nights; they've been a crowd-pleaser for years.

SHOPPING

VGstockstudio/Shutterstock.com

Embarking on a shopping adventure in Rhodes is like stepping into a tapestry of old and new. The town is home to two distinct market experiences: the folklore market, brimming with tradition, and the new market, showcasing familiar brand names. Each of these markets operates on different schedules.

In the Old Town, the shops come alive at night, catering primarily to tourists. The busy streets of Aristotelous and Sokratous, along with the surrounding lanes near Ippokratous Square, form the epicentre of Old Town shopping. This area feels like a fair, adorned with colourful umbrellas, teeming with souvenirs, jeweller's shops, and more — ideal for those in search of keepsakes or one-of-a-kind trinkets.

For the fashion-forward, the New Market located on Sofokli Venizelou Street and Kyprou Square is your go-to destination for stylish attire. In contrast, Archangelos offers a slice of tradition, complete with handmade pots and the island's classic leather boots.

Natura Greca

At Natura Greca, discover a treasure trove of natural Greek products. Whether it's olive oil pressed from the finest olives, a variety of honey flavours, or unique Chios mastic products, this shop offers a chance to take home a genuine slice of Greece. Don't miss out on their pate and homemade jams —perfect additions to your pantry or as thoughtful gifts.

Laiki Market

Twice a week, on Wednesdays and Saturdays, the people's street market welcomes you into a vibrant world of fresh produce and local flavours. Predominantly food-centric, this market is where locals flock to pick up ripe fruits, crisp vegetables, and a myriad of other authentic Greek goodies. While you can spot a few clothing and tourist-centric stalls, the primary focus remains on food — making it a haven for food enthusiasts eager to sample and take in the different stands.

Rhodes Handmade Gallery

Rhodes Handmade Gallery is a sanctuary of craftsmanship where each item is a unique piece of art, meticulously created with an attention to detail. With an extensive selection that ranges from intricate carpets and ambient lighting to expertly crafted pottery, making a choice might seem overwhelming. But worry not — the friendly and always-smiling staff are on hand to guide you through their treasure trove, helping you find the piece that speaks to you.

TOURIST INFORMATION

Rhodes International Airport (RHO)

The international airport of Rhodes "Diagoras" is located 16 km from the city centre, near the village of Paradhissi. You can take the local bus to get to the town. The last bus leaves from the airport at 11:30 pm. You can also get a taxi, and the cost will depend on the time, the traffic and the number of luggage pieces you are carrying.

Passport / Visa

Greece can be visited visa-free for up to 90 days by citizens of most European countries, Australia, New Zealand, Japan, South Korea,

Taiwan, Malaysia, Israel, UAE and most countries in America. If you are unsure whether or not you need to apply for a visa, we recommend contacting the embassy or consulate in your country. International (non-Schengen) travellers need a passport that is valid for at least 3 months after the end of their intended trip in order to enter the Schengen zone. Citizens of Schengen countries can travel without a passport, but must have a valid ID with them during their stay.

Best Time to Visit

As Rhodes is one of the most southern islands in Greece, it has a milder climate and a long season of summer, that lasts from the beginning of April until the end of November. However, all services and sights are open throughout the year, so there is still plenty to see and to do during winter from December until the end of March, and you do benefit from lower prices and less crowded places.

Public Transport

Public transportation serves as the most affordable means of navigating Rhodes. The central hub for this network is conveniently situated in Rhodes Town. From here, buses depart on a regular schedule, ferrying passengers to major destinations across the island. These include the historic Lindos, quaint Gennadi, lively Afandou, vibrant Kallithea, picturesque Tsambika beach, the charming Anthony Quinn Bay in Ladiko, and the tranquil Seven Springs. Two local companies — RODA and KTEL — shoulder the responsibility for the island's bus services.

Taxi

Taxis are certain to be more expensive than a bus, but they are usually faster and more convenient. You can hail a cab on most streets, and you can always find more drivers around the port area, close to the airport or next to major tourist attractions.

You can book a taxi by calling on any of the following phone numbers:

+30 22410 69800

+30 22410 85444 (Faliraki station)

+30 22410 66555 (Radio taxi "Diagoras")

Uber launched its service on Rhodes in April 2023.

Post

There are numerous post offices on Rhodes. You'll find the main post office ELTA in the historic building on Eleftherias Square. However, there are other shops close by as well but be aware that most of the shops close at noon.

Pharmacy

There are several pharmacies across Rhodes town (and island), and a central one is "Rhodes Pharmacy - Athanasios V.

Dimitrakopoulos" in the Old Town. Each pharmacy has a notice in the window directing you to the nearest on-duty pharmacy that is open late.

Electricity

Greece uses the Type F electrical plug with two round pins, same as in many countries in Continental Europe. The standard voltage is 230 volts, but some hotels have special plugs for 110 or 120-volt shavers.
