Nestled between Sicily and North Africa, Malta is an enchanting island nation that offers a unique blend of history, culture, and natural beauty. Beyond its historical wonders, which include ancient temples and medieval fortresses, Malta boasts stunning coastlines, crystal-clear waters, and picturesque beaches, which combined with nearly uninterrupted sunshine year-round and some of the mildest temperatures worldwide, make the island a delightful escape for travellers in any season.

THE ISLAND

Leonid Andronov/Shutterstock.com

The island of Malta is an archipelago in the warm Mediterranean waters, some 93 km south of Sicily. Only the three largest islands: Malta, Gozo (Għawdex), and Comino (Kemmuna) are inhabited. Numerous bays along the indented coastline of the islands provide good harbours while the landscape is characterised by low hills with terraced fields.

Malta is not just sun and beaches: historical Malta offers unique megalithic temples, fortified cities, and other unique monuments. Valletta, the capital of Malta, has been listed as a UNESCO world heritage site due to its various historical buildings.

As a consequence of the strong historic and cultural links to Britain, Malta is bilingual, so the great majority of the Maltese can communicate in English.

If you plan your visit for special times like summer Festa season, Easter, and Carnival, be assured you won't be stuck for what to do — simply join the crowd for some incredible fun.

DO & SEE

Nadezhda1906/Shutterstock.com

Whether you're a history enthusiast, nature lover, or simply looking to unwind, Malta has something special to offer everyone. Immerse yourself in the ancient charm of Valletta, a UNESCO World Heritage site, and explore its impressive fortifications, cathedrals, and museums. Dive into the crystal-clear waters to uncover fascinating marine life, or bask in the sun on the idyllic beaches. Unearth the mysteries of the Ħal Saflieni Hypogeum, a prehistoric underground temple, and wander through the quaint villages with their charming architecture and bustling local markets.

Valletta — the Capital of Malta

Valletta, the capital of Malta, was ingeniously constructed in the 16th century by the Knights of St John. Exuding baroque elegance, it is rightfully hailed as an open-air museum due to the number of historic buildings concentrated in the area like St John's Co-Cathedral and the Grand Harbour, masterfully crafted by the Knights. Within a mere 900m x 630m area, over 25 churches grace the landscape. This remarkable city is an esteemed UNESCO World Heritage Site, a testament to its cultural significance and architectural splendour.

Mdina

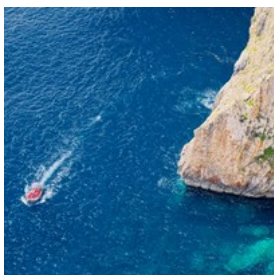

Mdina, the old capital of Malta, is a typical medieval town situated on one of the highest hills of the island. Known as the "Silent City", Mdina is one of the few remaining fortified Renaissance cities in Europe. Climb to the top for magnificent views of the island.

Wied iż-Żurrieq

Wied iż-Żurrieq is a small village situated on the southern coast of Malta. Here visitors can have a swim or visit the Blue Grotto and the surrounding coastline on a trip on the "dghajsa", a traditional Maltese fishing boat. The Blue Grotto is famous for the clarity of the water and the brilliant colours around the rocks and in the caves.

Three Cities of Cottonera

Across the Grand Harbour, to the south of Valletta, are the historic fortified towns of Vittoriosa, Cospicua and Senglea, commonly referred to as the three cities of Cottonera. If you only have time for one of them, Vittoriosa is the one most worth a visit. Here you'll find Fort St Angelo, the Inquisitor's Palace, and the Vittoriosa waterfront, which was refurbished in the early 2000s to once again reach up to its former glory.

Marsaxlokk

Marsaxlokk is the main fishing village of Malta, known for its famous fish market held on the docks every Sunday morning.

It's a true spectacle and something you shouldn't miss. It isn't just fish that's on sale here — souvenirs and handicrafts are up for grabs at decent prices too. There are, naturally, a multitude of seafood restaurants in the vicinity.

Megalithic Temples

The remains of temples erected in the fourth and third millennium B.C. are a unique sighting. Stone idols, animal representations carved in relief, stone tablets, altars and screens decorated with spirals and other patterns enhance the attraction of these magnificent sanctuaries. Some of the places worth a visit are Hagar Qim in Qrendi, Tarxien Temples in Tarxien and Ggantija in Gozo.

Diving

Malta is famous for its clear blue water and the perfect conditions for diving. Plenty of reefs, caves, and remains of old shipwrecks make it an unforgettable experience. Make use of the chance to go on a boat cruise and head towards one of these spots.

Gozo

The sister island, Gozo, is well worth a visit on its own. Hire a car or book one-of-the-day jeep safari trips that are offered by multiple tour operators. Upon disembarking, you'll immediately notice the difference between the islands. Gozo has a more serene atmosphere and is packed with lush farms. While you're here, don't miss the Citadel in Victoria, the Saltpans, the Inland Sea, and the cliff where the Azure Window (formerly one of the most famous landmarks of Malta) once stood before its collapse in early 2017.

Hal Saflieni Hypogeum

The Hypogeum of Hal Saflieni is a Neolithic subterranean structure, accidentally discovered in 1902. Over 500 square metres of chambers, halls, and passages date back to the period between 3600 and 2500 BC. To conserve the stone, precaution must be taken, and the number of visitors per day is therefore limited.

Limestone Heritage

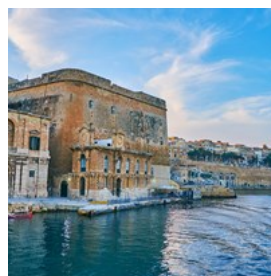

The name Malta comes from the Italian word “melita” or “honey”. The reason for that is quite banal — when sailors first saw Malta, the islands' limestone silhouette appeared dark yellow, similar to the colour of honey. The Limestone Heritage, Park and Gardens is a former quarry, where you can explore the island's limestone history through its exhibits and sculpting demonstrations.

BEACH LIFE

telesniuk/Shutterstock.com

Maltese beaches are predominantly safe and rather well-kept. Good beaches are to be found both in the south and in the north of Malta, so wherever you're staying, a nice beach is most probably just a few minutes away.

Golden Bay

Blessed with its exquisite sandy bay, this destination ranks among the most sought-after on the Maltese Islands, luring a considerable influx of local and international vacationers each year. Besides its undeniable allure, the area offers splendid opportunities for leisurely walks and serves as a perfect playground for water sports aficionados, especially those eager to indulge in windsurfing.

Address: Golden Bay, Malta

Mellieħa Bay

This is Malta's largest and most popular sandy beach. There are no undercurrents here so the bay offers safe bathing and the shallow waters make it ideal for children. There is a pleasant choice of activities, from banana boat rides to pedalo hire, windsurfing and water skiing.

Address: Mellieħa Bay, Malta

Blue Lagoon

Tucked away on the picturesque island of Comino, this small beach is a hidden gem accessible only through booking one of the numerous boat trips that traverse these enchanting waters and the neighbouring islands. Though the sandy beach may be small, it doesn't deter visitors, as most choose to bask in its beauty from the comfort of their boats. The allure lies in the crystal-clear waters, creating a perfect haven for snorkelling enthusiasts to explore the vibrant marine life beneath the surface.

Bugibba

Nestled in the northern region of Malta island, this scenic shore boasts a flat, rocky landscape offering sunbathing havens while also granting easy access points for swimmers to explore the clear, deep, and safe waters.

Address: Bugibba, Malta

Pretty Bay

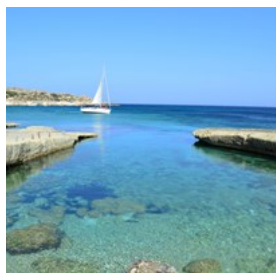

Pretty Bay is a flourishing seaside resort in the south of Malta. It lies right in the town centre of Birzebbugia, so there are plenty of shops and restaurants along the coastline. The resort is rather popular with local holiday-makers thanks to its beautiful sandy beach.

Address: Birzebbugia, Malta

Ġnejna Bay

Close to the town of Mgarr is the beautiful Ġnejna Bay. It's mostly frequented by locals, which makes it less crowded with tourists than many of the other Maltese beaches.

Because the waters are shallow here, this is also a great place to come with your entire family.

Address: Ġnejna Bay, Malta

Għajn Tuffieħa

Tucked in between Golden Bay and Ġnejna Bay is the smaller and quieter sandy beach, Għajn Tuffieħa. The long stairway down to the beach makes it not the easiest to reach, but it is certainly well worth the climb down. There is a sunbed rental and a small snack bar.

DINING

Nadezhda1906/Shutterstock.com

Eating in Malta is an exuberant experience — take your pick from different dishes ranging from fish and seafood to the traditional rabbit stew. Maltese cuisine reflects the rich cultural heritage of the country, with clearly traceable English and Sicilian (as well as other Mediterranean) influences. Most restaurants offer very great wine lists featuring both local and foreign wines.

Dinner in The Sky Malta

Dinner in the Sky Malta takes dining to new heights, quite literally, as it elevates 22 guests to 40 metres above the rooftops of the island. This extraordinary experience blends fine dining, fun, excitement, and theatre into one unforgettable adventure. Suspended in the air, guests can savour their meals while enjoying breathtaking views of Malta. Although not for the faint of heart, Dinner in the Sky Malta ensures absolute safety for all its daring patrons, making it an extraordinary and secure gastronomic journey.

The Cliffs

Perched on the cliffs of Dingli, the elegant and modern restaurant, The Cliffs offers an unforgettable dining experience on the highest point of the Maltese Islands. From its beautiful and airy terrace, guests can indulge in a meal accompanied by incredible views of the sunset over green valleys and the blue sea. The food served at The Cliffs is a testament to the rich culinary traditions of the Mediterranean, as it skillfully incorporates locally-sourced and fresh ingredients. Embracing the heritage of the region, the restaurant preserves the use of wild edible plants, a practice fading away in the surrounding rural village of Dingli. Most dishes served here pay homage to traditional aspects that are either lost or at the brink of being forgotten, making The Cliffs a place of both culinary delight and cultural significance.

SHOPPING

Ollyy/Shutterstock.com

For all your shopping needs, the capital city of Valletta is the ideal destination. This is where most shops are located, with both local and international brands represented. For those looking to shop for fresh produce, the daily market at 8 am is a good place to be. Sliema is another good destination to go shopping.

The Point Shopping Mall

In the newly developed Tigne Point is located The Point Shopping Mall, a relatively recent addition to the Maltese shopping scene that packs a punch with its abundant shops that sell everything from the latest fashions to electronics. On site, you'll also find a handful of casual restaurants and a supermarket. As Malta's largest retail hub, The Point Shopping Mall beckons shopaholics and enthusiasts alike, transforming into a bustling mecca that's simply irresistible for those seeking a shopping adventure.

Passport/Visa

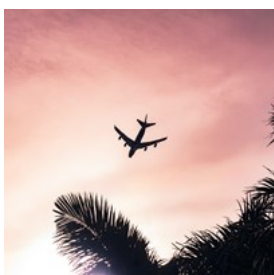

Malta can be visited visa-free for up to 90 days by citizens of Australia, New Zealand, Japan, South Korea, Taiwan, Malaysia, Israel, UAE and most countries in America. If you are unsure whether or not you need to apply for a visa, we recommend contacting the embassy or consulate in your country. International (non-Schengen) travellers need a passport that is valid for at least 3 months after the end of their intended trip in order to enter the Schengen zone. Citizens of Schengen countries can travel without a passport but must have a valid ID with them during their stay.

Malta International Airport (MLA)

Malta International Airport (MLA) is located between the villages of Luqa and Gudja, 10 kilometres away from Valletta. The official airport of the Maltese Islands is about 40 minutes away from popular tourist destinations such as Sliema and Bugibba.

The most viable form of transport on the island is buses. There are several lines that run frequently to and from the airport. For information on timetables, visit the Malta Public Transport website. Taxi services between the airport and any destination in Malta are available 24 hours a day. Other transportation options are also available on site to suit different travel needs.

Best time to Visit

Malta's warm climate throughout the year allows for an enjoyable experience during any season. If you seek stunning beaches and vibrant summer festivals, you should plan your trip from June to August. However, be prepared for larger crowds and higher prices during this peak tourist season. Alternatively, for milder weather and fewer tourists, opt for the shoulder seasons of spring (March to May) and autumn (September to November) to enjoy outdoor activities like hiking.

Public Transport

Distances on the island are very short and getting about by bus is very cheap and easy. There is a good transport network and most places of interest are accessible by local transport. Malta bus transportation is operated by Malta Public Transport. Prices and information on routes can be found on their website.

While bus tickets can be purchased from drivers on all buses, it's also possible to buy travel cards specifically designed for visitors: the ExplorePlusMeep card, the Explore cards, and the 12 Single Day Journey card. These cards are available online, from Sales and Information Office in the Arrivals' Lounge at the Malta International Airport as well as other Sales and Information Offices from a number of partner resellers across Malta and Gozo.
