Brisbane is a lively, cosmopolitan city with excellent restaurants, beautiful riverside parks, a busy cultural calendar and a great nightlife. Its fantastic weather year-round has allowed outdoor activities to thrive and develop a vibrant café culture. The city is surrounded by some of the state's major tourist attractions, and there is an abundant choice of daytrips whether it be to the coast for the golden beaches, or inland for some of Queensland's serene bushland, there is something for everybody.

THE CITY

© Broderick

The capital of the “Sunshine State,” Brisbane, could very well be the world’s most laidback city: its residents are friendly and optimistic in a way rarely seen in big city life. But with such a fantastic lifestyle, who can blame them for smiling?

Brisbane has a world of experience to offer, from the hustle and bustle of the Central Business District (CBD), you can escape to the creative ambiance of the contemporary arts centre - The Brisbane Powerhouse in New Farm. Perhaps you’d prefer dinner with sights of the city at South Bank? Afterwards, if you’d like a stiff drink, head towards the trendy bars of Fortitude Valley and West End.

If you don’t dance the night away, you might be up early enough to watch the sun rise as you kayak on the Brisbane River. Or perhaps you’d prefer relaxing at Australia’s only inner city beach at South Bank. If you still have the energy, you can try rock climbing and take in the views of the Story Bridge and the city skyline from the Kangaroo Point Cliffs.

When you’re ready to relax, head down to Woolloongabba to enjoy some of the spectator sports that Queensland is famed for!

BARS & NIGHTLIFE

© Jiaren Lau

Brisbane is scattered with great pubs, you'll realise this the moment you learn that most of the "hotels" which you see are actually drinking establishments. Beers are served in pots, schooners, pints and jugs and the beer taps in many bars will be specially chilled, causing the condensation to freeze on the outside. Most hotels are open 10:30am-3am, and the traditional "Sunday Session" runs from 11am to midnight.

Norman Hotel

The Norman is a good place to meet a cross-section of Brisbane society, it's tradition for those attending matches at The Gabba to get a pre-match steak here. There are two bars here, the new Norman's Bar and the traditional Sports Bar.

Address: 102 Ipswich Rd, Woolloongabba
Phone: +61 7 3391 5022
Internet: www.normanhotel.com.au

Story Bridge Hotel

A Brisbane stalwart, its existence is intrinsically linked to The Gabba, but it's probably best known for hosting the Australia Day cockroach races.

You'll find three different bars here, the Shelter, the Corner Bar and the Outback bar. All of them have plenty of cocktails and ice cold beer to offer.

Address: 200 Main Street, Kangaroo Point
Phone: +61 7 3391 2266
Internet: www.storybridgehotel.com.au

Breakfast Creek Hotel

The Breakfast Creek is famous for its steaks, because you can choose the meat before it's cooked, and its Sunday session lunch, live music and an afternoon in the sun.

Address: 2 Kingsford Smith Drive, Albion

SHOPPING

© Brisbane City Council

The Queen Street Mall is Queensland's premiere shopping destination with over 700 shops doing business seven days a week and independent designers as well as a plethora of cafés abound.

Queens Plaza is where a host of home-grown talents such as Herringbone of Sydney and Alannah Hill take pride of place. Take a short stroll and you'll also find the likes of Max Mara, Vuitton, and Tiffany & Co, proving that Brisbane isn't too small for the big names.

The assortment of logos and brands available in this stretch between Edward Street and George Street is mind-boggling, but of note are the legendary department stores David Jones and The Myer Centre. You may also want to take a peek in the boutique of local designer Bora, whose creation graced the body of Miss Universe in 2004.

If you leave the Queen Street Mall and head down Edward Street towards the river, you'll find more Australian designers and if you continue up Elizabeth Street, you'll find many of the up-and-coming.

Beyond the CBD, it's worth taking a look at Ann Street and James Street in Fortitude Valley where you'll find a mixture of boho chic and ultra-trendy style. Come back at the weekend and you'll find the Valley Markets: fashion on Brunswick Street where you can buy one-off items and flowers and fresh produce on James Street.

Back at the South Bank Lifestyle Markets, you'll find everything from local crafts to unique artworks at the weekend. Every second and fourth Sunday at the Powerhouse in New Farm, check out the Farmers Markets where you can pick up Queensland's finest pineapples and mangos, freshly caught seafood or just-picked vegetables. The farmers bring their goods to the markets literally on the back of their trucks. Open from dawn till around lunchtime but, for the best experience, be early to get the best produce and avoid the heat.
