Regional capital of Tuscany, and world tourist destination, Florence is one of the most beautiful cities in the world, a fact acknowledged by UNESCO which has designated the city as a treasure of humanity. The city hosts some of the most famous works of art on the planet and the whole of the city centre is packed with stunning palaces, churches and monuments. The surrounding countryside is well-known for its rolling hills and its wine—particularly the Chianti area between Siena and Florence.

THE CITY

© Chi King

Florentia—florid city—was the name given by the Romans to this settlement founded in the 1 century AD along the Arno river at the foot of Fiesole, an Etruscan city whose ruins are visible on the hill which dominates the city. The flowering of Florence in art, culture and international trade began in the 13th century and reached its peak in the 15th century under the reign of the Medici family, who ruled over the city until the end of the 18th century.

Everywhere you turn in Florence, you find extraordinary works of art and architecture, which attract some 8 million tourists a year—from the Palazzo Vecchio to the world-famous Uffizi gallery and the Cathedral with its magnificent dome and the tower designed by Giotto. Along the river Arno the Ponte Vecchio, with its jewellery shops, is a must for all those who pass through the city, as are the splendid Boboli gardens across the river. Florence is a international centre for food and for wine—with Chianti being its most famous local product and the celebrated Fiorentina steak on the bone.

DO & SEE

© 37244380@N00

To meet the spring in Florence is an obvious option, there are not many cities that beat it. In Florence there is so much to see and experience, and to alternate this with a good Italian ice cream make your holiday unbeatable. The historic centre of Florence attracts millions of tourists each year, and Euromonitor International ranked the city as the world's 72nd most visited in 2009, with 1,685,000 visitors.

Cathedral S. Maria del Fiore

A gothic cathedral with Brunelleschi's stupendous dome. Florence's cathedral stands tall over the city. To the right is Giotto's Bell Tower and the Baptistery of S. Giovanni stands opposite the cathedral entrance.

Address: Piazza Duomo, 17
Internet: www.duomofirenze.it

S. Maria Novella

Santa Maria Novella was built between 1279 and 1357 by Dominican friars, and is located just across from the main railway station which shares its name. Chronologically, it is the first great basilica in Florence. Architecturally, it is one of the most important Gothic churches in Tuscany. Inside the basilica, you will find masterpieces by Masaccio, Giotto and Brunelleschi.

Address: P.S.M.Novella, 18
Internet: www.smn.it

Basilica of Santa Croce

The church is located on the Piazza di Santa Croce and was rebuilt for the Franciscan order in 1294 by Arnolfo di Cambio. Michelangelo is buried in Santa Croce among other great and good in Florence. Basilica di

Santa Croce is the principal Franciscan church in Florence, and a minor basilica of the Roman Catholic Church.

Address: P. Santa Croce
Phone: +39 055 244 619

Basilica of S. Lorenzo

The church is flanked by the splendid, square-shaped Old Sacristy by Brunelleschi and the New Sacristy, by Michelangelo. Of all the places in Florence associated with Michelangelo, this is probably the most exciting one, here are his sculptures for the tombs of Lorenzo and Giuliano Medici and fine examples of Mannerist architecture in the Biblioteca Laurenziana.

Address: P. Madonna degli Aldobrandini
Phone: +39 055 214 042

Chapel Brancacci (S. Maria del Carmine)

The chapel is famous worldwide for its frescoes of Masaccio. They were a great inspiration for da Vinci and Michelangelo. The visit now includes an excellent interactive audio-visual tour.

Address: P. del Carmine

Uffizi Gallery

One of the greatest museums of the world with masterpieces from the 13th to 19th century. The Uffizi is the most important and visited museum in Florence. The museum's most famous works include Botticelli's Birth of Venus. The name of the Uffizi means offices and the museum was completed in 1581. Since the 1600s, it has been open to visitors and in 1765 it was officially opened to the public.

Palazzo Vecchio

This was the home of the Priori delle Arti, of the Signoria and a ducal residence. Palazzo Vecchio, meaning "the old palace" and is located in Piazza della Signoria, the building is now the town hall of Florence. It has large collections of paintings and sculptures. Overlooking the Piazza della Signoria you see a copy of David, a 5.17 m high statue made by Michelangelo.

Address: P. Signoria
Phone: +39 055 276 8325

Palazzo Pitti

Palazzo Pitti contains several different types of museums. The basis of the current palace dates from 1458 and was the residence of the bank man Luca Pitti. It was then bought by the Medici family in 1539 as an official residence of the ruling families of the Grand Duchy of Tuscany. In connection with the Palazzo Pitti you find the Boboli Gardens which is one of Italy's most beautiful gardens.

Address: Piazza Pitti

SHOPPING

© eGuide Travel

Florence's two central streets, via Tornabuoni and via della Vigna Nuova, are the best places for the most exclusive boutiques, leather goods and stylish shoes. Here you can find most of the internationally known Florentine fashion brands such as Roberto Cavalli, Gucci, Salvatore Ferragamo and Ermanno Scervino.

The fashion addicted should definitely go to The mall (Via Europa 8 - Leccio Reggello), 30 minutes drive from Florence, where they will find discounted clothes, shoes, bags and accessories from the top stylists' past collections.

If you are interested in original gold or silver jewellery, head for the Ponte Vecchio and its tiny botteghe orafe (craftwork shops). One of the most renowned is Gioielleria Carlo Piccini (via Ponte vecchio, 31r – tel: 039 055 210891). Besides shops, Florence is rich in open-air markets. If you want to buy leather goods or clothes, go to the market of San Lorenzo, which is located in the centre of the city, or to the Market of the Porcellino, which is sheltered under the sixteenth-century Loggia del Porcellino.
