The Greeks and Romans did it, as did rich lords, film stars, artists and thousands of tourists. They were just going to pass by, but instead remained in Nice and along the Riviera. Some for just a few weeks, others for months and years. They were too captivated by the light, enchanted by the scents and charmed by the taste of olives, wine and succulent vegetables. All this with a chance to dabble their toes in a turquoise sea. In addition to this, a Nice Nouveau has evolved – a sassy Mediterranean metropolis with pulsating nightlife, new avant-garde hotels and daring art galleries. The most fashionable street, the Promenade des Anglais, is the Champs-Élysées of the whole Riviera. Have you already bought your return ticket?

THE CITY

© Michael Gwyther-Jones

If you arrive in Nice by air, you will get straight into the city's most beautiful avenue – the Promenade des Anglais – the Mediterranean's Champs-Élysées. The magnificent seaside promenade runs between the luxury hotels and the beach, all in the shade of the very typical feather duster palms. Roller skaters glide easily between sun chairs, limousines and beach restaurants. This is Nice's cosmetic face. The city's heart is a bit further away – by the Cours Saleya market square. The main artery is la rue Droite. Stroll around the maze of small streets in the old town, la Vieille Ville, you can turn off it into a tiny square here, a tiny alley there or a cool church beyond it. Are you looking for shopping? You will find the shopping district above Place Masséna, where the big department stores and surrounding streets with names like rue Paradis and rue de la Liberté display their shops. Most of the buses depart from Place Masséna, if you want to travel up into the hills above Nice. A number of fairly sleepy and well-heeled suburbs stretch from the Chagall museum to the inescapable Cimiez hills to the north. The hills are a must, both for the Matisse museum and the view, or just for a picnic in an olive grove, with or without the summer jazz festival. Eastern Nice is a bit more down-market and needs more local knowledge – apart from the area close to the harbour at Port Olympia. The nightlife there has been given a boost recently, ever since a low-cost cruise ship started to drop anchor at the port in the summer of 2005. To the east lies the billionaires' playground of Cap Ferrat, the Eagle's Nest of Eze and Beaulieu-sur-Mer, which has been there since antiquity. To the west, the road passes world-famous artist's colonies such as Saint-Paul de Vence.

DO & SEE

© Dominique Sanchez

The whole world envies the French for their quality of life. The French envy the Riviera residents for their life in paradise. Nice combines the best of both worlds. This is where you can find small Provençal squares, where you can happily spend hours over a cup of coffee, but also find famous museums, parks and cathedrals. Put your walking shoes on!

Le Parc Floral de la ville de Nice

The world's largest greenhouse. Seven different tropical climates (damp, in other words) covering seven hectares, packed with 2.500 different plants. You can walk in the shadow of an (almost) unknown palm tree here, look at a baby shark, smell a thousand flowers and listen to bird song – on the loudspeakers.

Address: 405, Promenade des Anglais
Phone: +33 4 92 29 77 00

Musée National Message Biblique Marc-Chagall

The Russian-born master painter, Marc Chagall, is one of the Riviera's many adopted children. The museum was built in consultation with the artistic genius himself, on the theme of Biblical art. The museum has regularly recurring exhibitions of Jewish art.

Address: Avenue du Dr Menard
Phone: +33 4 93 53 87 20
Internet: www.musee-chagall.fr

Musée d'art Moderne et d'art Contemporain

Contemporain (MAMC) - Museum of Modern and Contemporary Art.

Nice wants to make a name for itself as a centre for pop art. Admire Nice's famous local artists such as Ben and Niki de Sainte Phalle in this imposing building. The latter has donated 170 of her works. But there is also Andy Warhol, Picasso, etc.

Address: Promenade des Arts
Phone: + 33 4 97 13 42 01
Internet: www.mamac-nice.org

Musée Matisse

Let's face it: you are not going to find any of Matisse's greatest works here. They are all in the USA. On the other hand, there is a clear picture of the artistic genius' development, from his sickbed as a young man to his grave behind the museum. After a visit, you can walk around in the painter's footsteps and compare the light in each painting. In addition, the red ochre villa is beautiful in its own right.

Address: 164 avenue des Arènes de Cimiez
Opening hours: Open 10am - 6pm all year round
Closed Tuesdays and some public holidays: 1st January, Easter Sunday, 1st May, 25th December
Phone: +33 4 93 81 08 08
Internet: www.musee-matisse-nice.org
More Info: Bus: Numbers 15, 17, 20, 22, 25.
Stop: "Les Arènes / musée Matisse"

Russian Orthodox Cathedral

In the days of the tsars, the people who enjoyed themselves in the Riviera's casinos until late on Saturday night, were not exactly short of money. They went here, to church though, on Sundays. After the collapse of communism in Eastern Europe, things are much as they were in the old days, but thick wads of dollars now rain down on the Riviera - and the beautifully restored cathedral. Strict dress code.

Address: Avenue Nicolas II

Villa Arson

Centre for modern art in Nice - you could call it art in real time. This is both a school of art and an exhibition centre, frequently featuring students or former students. Also has performance art.

Address: 20 avenue Stephen Liegard
Phone: +33 4 92 07 73 73
Internet: www.villa-arson.org

Cathedral

The cathedral is a masterpiece of Baroque architecture. Admire the beautiful ornamentation and friezes in the refreshing cool of the cathedral. On the outside, the shimmering colours on the dome have become one of Nice's landmarks.

Address: 3 Place Rossetti
Phone: + 33 4 93 92 01 35
Internet: www.cathedrale-nice.com

EXCURSIONS

Nice is in the centre of paradise. Bus lines depart from Cours Masséna to all points of the compass. A few Euro will take you to small Provençal villages in any direction.

St Jean Cap Ferrat

The peninsula which projects straight out into the Mediterranean lies nine kilometres west of Nice. A playground for billionaires, the Prince of Monaco's illegitimate children and various jet-setters. The promenade along the beach, with its tiny bathing beaches, is open for everybody. Wonderful at any time of year!

The Baroness Béatrice de Rothschild's extravagant pink palace is in the centre of the peninsula. These days it is a museum surrounded by seven perfumed, flowering gardens and open for visits. Foundation Ephrussi-de-Rothschild.

More Info: In the centre of the Cap Ferrat peninsula.

Saint Paul de Vence/Fondation

The museum has been designed in close collaboration with several artists, with famous names like Calder, Miró, Giacometti, Braque, Kandisky, Chagall, Bonnard. Several people living in the picturesque village count themselves as their pupils.

Address: St Paul de Vence
Opening hours: October-March: 10 am - 1 pm / 2 pm - 6 pm
April-June: 10 am - 6 pm
July-September: 10 am - 7 pm
The ticket office closes 30 minutes before closing time.
Phone: +33 4 93 32 81 63
Internet: www.fondation-maeght.com

Antibes

Antibes Juan-les-Pins is the second largest town in the Alpes Maritimes and is a popular tourist destination. Here you can experience a blend of traditional customs and watersports, history and nightlife, architectural heritage and festivals.

Address: 11 place du Général de Gaulle
Phone: +33 4 97 23 11 11
Internet: www.antibesjuanlespins.com

Eze

A small village in the mountains, where you might meet Prince Albert of Monaco. If you visit the Chateau Eza restaurant, you can eat on the balcony - and understand why Prince William called his house the Eagles' Nest.

Address: place du Général de Gaulle
Phone: + 33 4 93 41 26 00
Internet: www.eze-riviera.com

Peillon and Peille

Peillon is one of the most famous Provençal villages, located high up on its mountain top. If you are not tired from walking in the small streets, you can visit the Via Ferrata in nearby Peille. Via Ferrata offers obstacle courses and mountain climbing, plus walking along a rope bridge between the hills.

Phone: +33 4 93 79 95 75
Internet: www.peille.free.fr
More Info: 22 km from Nice

CANNES

The islands of L'île Sainte-Marguerite and L'île Saint-Honorat are two beautiful getaways from the city of Cannes. Just a boatride from the harbour, behind the palatial cinema, you can travel to these islands which are fifteen and thirty minutes respectively away from Cannes. L'île Sainte-Marguerite used to be a prison island, where a mysterious, masked prisoner was held in the 17th-century. The peaceful, flower-decked island of Saint-Honorat houses a monastery.

Eating

Farfalla

You will find the most interesting view from your dinner plate here. This is because the restaurant is beside the Staircase - the one beside the festival building. A most extensive menu too, including everything from omelets to Iranian caviar. Loud music and festivities toward the late evening. It also has a terrace.

Address: 1, boulevard de la Croisette
Phone: +33 4 93 68 93 00

Eating

Brasserie Carlton

A lovely view of the ocean and La Croisette, located in the Carlton Inter-Continental Hôtel. This famous restaurant has a certain way of bringing together a lovely lunch with the longing of a relaxing day. Here you will find a well-stocked buffet and A la Carte with Mediterranean tones.

Address: 58 Boulevard de la Croisette
Phone: +33 4 93 06 40 21

Bars & Nightlife

Bar Majestic

This bar is ugly, lies on a side street and serves beer in plastic mugs. So what? Well, le Petit Majestic (as it called in initiated circles) is both the most secret and the most public party place during the Cannes festival until very late at night. Here, on the pavement in front of the club, around 500 film journalists often meet to spill beer foam on their dinner jackets, after having padded round the big gala parties.

Address: 6 rue Tony Allard, Cannes
Phone: +33 4 93 39 94 92
Internet: www.petit-majestic.com

Bars & Nightlife

L'Atelier Palm Beach

One of the hottest night clubs in Cannes' party life, right out at the end of the beach promenade. Features oriental tables, red leather and red eyes. When it is warm, they also offer outdoor clubbing. Also restaurant.

Address: Pointe Croisette, Cannes
Phone: +33 4 97 06 36 90

Shopping

A short, simple rule: rue des Antibes for the general run of designer clothes, and Boulevard de la Croisette for the extravagant, luxury ones.

SAINT-TROPEZ

The most beautiful, trendy and luxurious city on the riviera, Saint Tropez. It lies on the tip of the ocean with colorful old buildings and a harbour filled with cafés and restaurants. Throughout the winding streets and alleys you will find numerous classy boutiques, art galleries and shops of all kind. For a brush of celebrity go to Pampelonne beach, a halfmoon shaped white sand beach, where you will find the clubs where the rich and famous hang out.

Eating

Spoon at the Byblos

The world's most star-studded chef, Alain Ducasse, is now in charge of a world-wide network of exciting restaurants. Spoon restaurants serve an intriguing mixture of Mediterranean dishes at more reasonable prices than the star-decorated restaurants.

Address: Avenue Paul Signac
Phone: +33 4 94 56 68 00
Internet: www.byblos.com

Cafes

Café de Paris

There are lots of cafés along the harbour, in front of the yachts bobbing up and down - they all look much alike. But the Café de Paris is where you will have the best chance of seeing royalty sitting and polishing their sunglasses.

Address: Le Port
Phone: +33 4 94 97 00 56
Internet: www.cafedeparis.fr

Sleeping

Bungalow

The Tournel camp site opened in 2005 with a new swimming pool, hammam and sauna in the midst of pine trees above the beaches - 30 min by bicycle from Saint-Tropez. But above all, they now have chalet rental.

Address: Route de Camarat-Ramatuelles
Phone: +33 4 94 55 90 90
Internet: www.tournels.com

Bars & Nightlife

Caves du Roy

It does not cost anything to rub shoulders with the jet-set in the Caves du Roy - at least if you are beautiful enough or eccentric enough to get past the bouncers. Drinks at the bar are expensive, however. But if you want to mix with the jet-set, this is the place to do it!

Address: Avenue Paul Signac
More Info: In the Hotel Byblos

EATING

© Marco Assini

Nice's cuisine is a reflection of the city's 300 days of sun a year. This means great tasting olive oil, garlic and lemons. Also a vast selection of all kinds of vegetables like aubergines, tomatoes, vegetable marrow, and lots more. If you put all this in a frying pan with olive oil, it makes ratatouille. Put it in the oven and you have a tian (au gratin). The city's own traditional take-away food is la socca – a kind of pancake made from chick peas. Some say it has a salty bracing taste, others say it tastes of old socks. However, this does not stop a new generation of playful chefs who have started to prepare Provençal cuisine nouveau. Bon appétit!

Chantecler-La Rotonde

Chantecler is Nice's culinary and cultural heritage flagship on the beach promenade. The restaurant is like the hotel: overblown and extravagant - bordering on kitsch. It also has a hidden low-price dining restaurant, "La Rotonde," with market decor, where you can eat lunch for a mere €30.

Address: Hôtel Negresco, 37 promenade des Anglais
Phone: +33 4 93 16 64 00
Internet: www.hotel-negresco-nice.com

Le Grand Balcon

Fusion food on your plate, beautiful people on the seats and their portraits on the walls - all in a red, intimate atmosphere. Tajine containing fish and crab, eggs and foie gras together with other fancy ingredients.

Address: 10, rue Saint-François-de-Paule
Phone: +33 4 93 62 60 74
Internet: www.legrandbalcon.net

Sapore

Sapore allows you to pick and choose from lots of small, delicious tapas-style dishes. Décor in stylish metal and light-coloured wood. The chef has been trained at some of the Riviera's most highly-regarded kitchens.

Address: 19, Rue Bonaparte
Phone: +33 4 92 04 22 09
Internet: www.restaurant-sapore.com

La Reserve de Nice

La Reserve de Nice is a one star Michelin restaurant with a panoramic view of the best of that Nice has to offer - lovely ocean view and a sunset over the Baie des Anges. The chef Sébastien Mahuet works with locally produced flavourful vegetables which brings exquisite taste to his cuisine.

Address: 60 boulevard Franck Pilatte
Phone: +33 4 92 04 23 02
Internet: www.lareservedenice.fr

Le Grand Café de Turin

A genuine 1900s brasserie, with everything that the shellfish enthusiast could dream of - above all, heaps of oysters. Lightning fast waiters, as you would expect at a place like this.

Address: 5, place Garibaldi
Phone: +33 4 93 62 29 52
Internet: www.cafedeturin.fr
More Info: In the northern part of the Old Town.

Cours Saleya

Cours Saleya is largest square in the city and a historic centre. Perfect at any time of day, for a coffee or lunch, beneath what used to be Matisse's balcony.

CAFES

© Sara Cimino

Café culture thrives in the Riviera. Every terrace and bar counter has its own, special daily rhythm, get to know them yourself. All along the Cours Saleya, beyond the flower market, the seats are closely packed in a myriad of cafés and restaurants. The café bill will not be welcomed by low budget tourists, but you have to face facts – millions of visitors a year cannot be wrong. Sitting here – in the shade or the sun, is a delight for watching and being watched.

Fenocchio

Fenocchio is run by the Fenocchio family and serves some of the best homemade ice cream in Nice. Here you have a selection of 94 flavours and 35 of these is lovely sorbet.

Address: 2 Place Rossetti
6 Rue de la Poissonerie
Opening hours: 9 a.m to midnight
Phone: +33 4 93 80 72 52
+33 4 93 62 88 80
Internet: www.fenocchio.fr

Aqua Bar

Aqua Bar is located right at the top of the highest terrace in Nice at the Grand Hotel Aston. It is an ideal terrace for getting high on ice-cream.

Address: 10 Rue de la Loge

Phone: +33 4 92 17 53 69
Internet: www.hotel-aston.com

Le Grand Café des Arts

Situated between Nice's theatre and the Museum of Modern and Contemporary Art, this café has a traditional menu and a great view from the outside terrace. Inside the café there is constantly an exhibition dedicated to one single artist.

Address: Musée Art Moderne place Yves Klein
Phone: +33 493 80 58 58
Internet: www.restaurant-le-grand-cafe-des-arts.abcsalles.com

Coffee Time

Coffee Time is a café with a British and American inspired menu. The carrot cake is highly recommended!

Address: 29 rue Tondu de l'Escarene
Phone: +33 6 85 21 92 08
Internet: www.coffeetime.over-blog.com

Oliviera Café and Olive Oil Shop

This is a café and an outlet for quality olive oils. Try the different olive oils or just enjoy a nice lunch.

Address: 8 Bis rue du Collet
Phone: + 33 4 93 13 06 45
Internet: www.oliviera.com

BARS & NIGHTLIFE

© toufik Lerari

Riviera nights reflect influences from the Orient, Paris and Barcelona, all year round. The foundation of a good night out is the tiny bars and cafés that can escalate into a giant party before the night has ended. If you've got the looks and the money, try Nikki Beach, Le Club 55', les Caves du Roy, La Bodega de Papagayo or VIP Room where you might bump into Paris Hilton, Elton John, P. Diddy or George Clooney.

Charly's Bar

Charly's Bar is one of the best cocktail bars in Cannes. The bar is decorated in cosy colours giving you the feeling of being surrounded by water and mountains. Come and enjoy the delicious drinks!

Address: 5, Rue du Suquet
Phone: +33 4 97 06 54 78
Internet: www.pubcharlybar.com

Le Baoli

If you really want to party in Cannes this is most definitely the place to be! The bodyguards at the front door will determine if you are one of the lucky ones to get in and if you are you will be amazed by the luxurious interior. Le Baoli has a minimalistic design with an Asian theme with oversize loungers and tiki-lamps and this is just the indoor environment...

Address: Port Pierre Canto Bd del la Croisett
Phone: +33 4 93 43 03 43
Internet: www.lebaoli.com

La Chunga

La Chunga is a small but well visited piano bar located close to Hotel Martinez in Cannes. Many visitors come here for a good ending to a great night.

Address: 24 Rue de la Tour Maubourg
Phone: +33 4 93 94 11 29
Internet: www.la-chunga-cannes.com

Le 6

A "telephone-bar." Qué? You can phone your order from the table, or phone the next table. Apart from this, house, oriental electro and disco music bump away in the background.

Address: 6 rue Raal Bosio
Phone: +33 4 93 62 66 64
Internet: www.le6.fr

Le Relais Negresco

Le Relais Negresco has an upholstered decor for those who want to give their evening a bit of luxury and ostentation. A great piano bar with big cigars and big bills.

Address: 37 Promenade des Anglais
Phone: +33 4 93 16 64 00
Internet: www.hotel-negresco-nice.com

SHOPPING

© Luca

Fashion, food and drinks are not pastimes in France – they are the foundations of life. The range of goods in the shops reflects the French elegance and awareness of trends. There is also a noticeable influence of nearby Italy showing in the smartly dressed people and beautiful shoes. A weekend passes quickly in Nice, and shopping can easily become a full day activity. So if you are in a hurry, it is advisable to concentrate on just a few streets.

Notre-Dame-Jean-Médecin-rue de Paradis

First take a walk along the avenue de Notre Dame. You can find some labels at bargain prices for children in places like Bisque-Bisque Rage! At the Basilica, turn south along the avenue Jean-Médecin. This avenue cannot (and should not) be missed. This is where you will find many of the major brands like Zara - Spain's answer to H&M, Monoprix, Quick Silver and Virgin Megastore. In addition, there are a number of brasseries where you can take a break. Turn off onto the rue de la Liberté, (this is when the fashion thermometer starts to rise) and end up with the rue de la Liberté. This could be called Nirvana.

It is hotter than hot here – you should be able to find everything that makes French fashion what it is - Kenzo, Chanel, Mont Blanc...

End by going back to the Place Magenta and turn left onto the designer street, the rue Buffa, and visit, for example, Halogène at number 21.

Rue St-François de Paule-Préfecturerue - rue Droite

At rue St-François de Paule, you can revel in tasting Alziari's world-famous olive oil (n° 14). Or why not enjoy the fragrance of Bruno, the truffle king's black fungi (n°11)? Not to mention the sweets at Maison Auers (n°7)! Take a look at Nice's pulsing heart, the ProvProvençal- scented flower market (marché aux Fleurs), then turn eastwards along the rue de la Préfecture. Don't miss either the Antic Boutik or one of the other stylish fashion shops (Asso, Habit Magique...). If the Cours Saleya is Nice's heart, its main artery is the rue Droite. Walk along it. Look in on some of the many art galleries and souvenir shops, or stop and relax in a café.

Address: Vieux Nice
More Info: (Old Town)

Galleries Lafayette

This is France's Rolls-Royce of department stores. Here you will find many of the finest things that France has to offer in the way of clothes and souvenirs. It is also centrally located – even if slightly hidden behind its pillared arcades. Essential place to shop during the big sales in January and July.

Address: 6 av Jean Médecin
Phone: +33 4 92 17 36 36
Internet: www.gallerieslafayette.com

Monoprix

In recent years, Monoprix – with its food and clothing departments – has gained an increasing cult status. This is where you can really find an exciting selection of goods at low prices. Look out especially for their own-label brands on the delicatessen shelves.

Address: 42 av Jean Médecin
Internet: www.monoprix.fr

FNAC

Increasing numbers of tourists have discovered FNAC - France's answer to Virgin Megastore. The perfect way to fill your suitcase with French film and music. The sales personnel love to answer questions such as:

"please make a selection of the five best selling French hip-hop/jazz-groove discs right now..."

In addition, there is a small Fnac-Eveil-jeux store next door. This has all the educational toys you might want if you have small children at home.

Address: Centre Nice-Etoile 44-46, ave Jean Médecin
Internet: www.fnac.com

Mamac- Gioffredo-Gubernatis - Masséna

After a visit to the Modern Museum (Mamac) and its souvenir shop, walk along rue Defly to rue Gioffredo. This houses an interesting range of everything from home furnishings to a milliner (n° 56). Take a peek at rue Gubernatis – if for no other reason than to stock up on wine bottles at nos. 16 and 17. If you still haven't found what you want, try the Galeries Lafayette department store.

SLEEPING

© Giovanni

It is easy to spend a fortune on your hotel stay when in Nice, but you will find that there is also a myriad of accommodations, in all classes. Many of the low budget alternative has a rustic charm whilst the upper class suites has everything you'd expect suitable for kings and queens. Enjoy your stay, either way.

Hôtel Negresco

For your wedding night, unless you are one of the lucky people that can afford it anyway. The hotel was built in 1912 and was scheduled as a National Historic Monument in 1974. It is now one of the few palaces in the world that is still privately owned. The owner, Jeanne Augier, has created a museum to live in, with the aid of French works of art from the Renaissance to the present day.

Address: 37, Promenade des Anglais
Phone: +33 4 93 16 64 00
Internet: www.hotel-negresco-nice.com

Hi Hotel

Hi Hotel is a pleasant boutique hotel. By no means far from the only one of its kind in Nice, but the smartest and most impressive.

Address: 3 Avenue des Fleurs
Phone: + 33 4 97 07 26 26
Internet: www.hi-hotel.net

La Pérouse

This hotel is located a few hundred metres from the beach, on a cliff. Life is at its best when you can open the shutters, walk out onto a small balcony and just look down at the Big Blue Sea with a puttering fishing boat!

Address: 11 Quai Rauba-Capeu
Phone: +33 4 93 62 34 63
Internet: www.hotel-la-perouse.com

Hotel Windsor

This is one of Nice's most eccentric hotels. Each room has its own theme, because each one was allocated to its own artist. They have then been allowed to put their hearts and souls into decorating the rooms in their own way. The results are amazing! There is a small swimming pool in the leafy hotel courtyard.

Address: 11 Rue Dalpozzo
Phone: +33 4 93 88 59 35

Airport

Aéroport Nice-Côte d'Azur is 7 km outside Nice. The airport bus departs every 20 minutes from 06.05 - 23.40. A ticket gives you unlimited travel for the rest of the day in Nice. Taxi prices vary, but there is an updated list on the airport web site.

Public transport

Buses and trams are an efficient way to travel in Nice and along the Riviera. You can use the same ticket on both bus and tram and the ticket cost about €1. Timetables and a map are available from the tourist information office, 5 Promenade des Anglais or the head office, 10 Avenue Félix Faure. Night buses run until about 01.00. Trains are the most comfortable and fastest way to travel along the Riviera. The station in Nice is on avenue Thier. From here, it takes 20 minutes to Thiers, Cannes, 20 minutes to Monaco and 1 hour to Saint Raphaël. Bicycles can be rented from a company called Nice Allocation Rent. Rollerblades can be rented from the Roller Station.

Taxi

Taxis are available when the taxi lamp on the roof is fully illuminated. There are taxi stations at places like the Hotel Méridien on the promenade des Anglais. Four people are not always accepted - or are charged extra, and the same applies to luggage.
