THE CITY

majeczka/Shutterstock.com

Among a number of local legends from Nottinghamshire are the literary geniuses Lord Byron and D.H. Lawrence. International fashion designer Paul Smith set up his flagship store in the heart of the city where he was born, and Jesse Boot established his first chemist store 'Boots' in Nottingham, which soon became a household name across Britain.

Robin Hood, the world's most notorious outlaw, has also awarded international fame to the city, with many Robin Hood related sights to see in Nottingham.

Nottinghamshire's castles, caves and cathedrals are just the start of the county's cultural heritage. Nottingham was once the world capital of lace production during the 18th and 19th century. The area famous for lace production - The Lace Market - is now a protected heritage site boasting stunning examples of industrial architecture from the 1700s.

SHOPPING

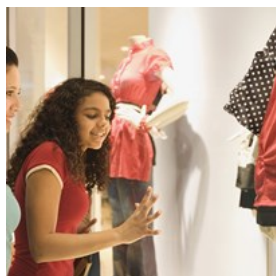

Mr Thinktank/Flickr (image cropped)

High up on your to-do list should be to indulge in some retail therapy, as Nottingham is renowned throughout Britain for its legendary shopping experience, and earned a fine reputation when it comes to style. Here you will find everything from big brand names to unique small retailers offering you a great mix of fashion. Well-known fashion designer Sir Paul Smith, who was born in Nottingham, has set up his flagship store here in Nottingham, which should not be missed.

The main shopping areas in the town centre are all conveniently within walking distance from each other, but for a compact shopping experience you can head to the two main shopping centres - The Victoria Centre and the Broadmarsh Centre.

If you fancy a trip out of town for a more 'local' experience, why not take your pick from Nottinghamshire's many market towns: Mansfield, Southwell, Newark, Worksop or Retford.

The Victoria Centre

The Victoria Centre is open daily with late night shopping on Wednesdays. Here you will find well-known brands such as John Lewis, as well as a selection of cafés and an indoor market selling food and household goods. Other stores located here are; Claire's, Disney Store, House of Fraser, New Look Men, Pandora and Swatch.

Passport & Visa

For travel to the UK, citizens of the EU, EEA, and Switzerland (except Irish citizens) need an Electronic Travel Authorisation (ETA).

However, those planning to work or study in the UK for more than six months will need to obtain the appropriate visa. Additionally, residents of nine other countries — including Australia, Canada, Hong Kong, Japan, Malaysia, New Zealand, Singapore, South Korea, and the United States — can also visit the UK for up to six months without a visa, but they will still need an ETA. To ensure a smooth journey, it is advisable to consult the UK government website for any specific visa requirements or regulations.
