THE CITY

Chris Parypa Photography/Shutterstock.com

With around eight million visitors annually, Ocean City is a top vacation spot for many. The city has been a top fishing stop ever since its founding in 1875. Before its founding, Ocean City was known as "The Ladies Resort to the Ocean," a statement that continues to be true today. Within the city is also a memorial dedicated to the firefighters who lost their lives during September 11, 2001.

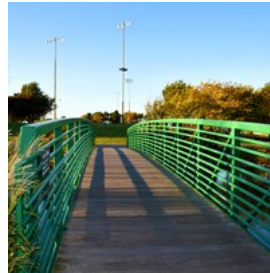

DO & SEE

Steve Heap/Shutterstock.com

There is a lot to do and a lot to see in Ocean City. The city has amusement parks, themed golf courses, an Ice skating rink and Ripley's Believe It or Not museum. At every turn, there is an exciting place to explore, which makes this city an excellent vacation spot!

Northside Park

Northside Park offers a delightful experience for solo travelers and families alike. Stroll along the paved pathways, enjoying the serene atmosphere created by the reflective waters and vibrant green grass. For those seeking more active pursuits, the park boasts three lighted softball/baseball fields, a soccer field, a multipurpose field, a fishing lagoon, and two playgrounds. Additional amenities include concession stands, a picnic area, two piers, a gazebo, and walking/jogging paths, ensuring a fun and fulfilling day for everyone.

Post

Sending parcels and letters in the US is a relatively straightforward process. The most common method is through the United States Postal Service (USPS). The USPS offers a variety of services for sending mail, including First-Class Mail for letters and postcards, Priority Mail for packages, and Priority Mail Express for overnight delivery. To send a parcel or letter, you will need to take it to a USPS post office or use a USPS blue collection box. Use the USPS website to find the nearest post office or collection box to your location. Additionally, you can also use private couriers such as FedEx and UPS, which often provide a wider range of services and faster delivery times, but generally at a higher cost.
