THE CITY

Visit Stockton

Stockton is located in San Joaquin County in California's great Central Valley. We have grown from a community of rich agricultural and educational roots to an urban destination blooming with arts, culture, fine dining, shopping, sports, recreation, fine agricultural products, and family activities.

Whether you are here for business or pleasure, visiting friends or family, or just passing through, we encourage you to discover the many wonders of Stockton. Be sure to visit our Downtown Stockton Waterfront where you'll find the Stockton Marina, Adventist Health Arena, Stockton (Banner Island) Ballpark, Regal City Centre Cinema, Weber Point Events Center, and the Visit Stockton office. Not far from there you can bask in the splendor of a historic Fox California Theatre, the Bob Hope Theatre. Great shopping and rich dining experiences await you throughout the city. During your stay in one of our many fine hotels, you may also wish to taste the exquisite wines from the neighboring Lodi Wine Appellation or tour the historic towns of the Gold Rush in the foothills to our east.

Since the 1940s, there have been major commercial and residential developments in Stockton. Industrial growth has been accompanied by residential developments.

Stockton supports very active and world-renowned talent including a civic theater, symphony, opera, and chorale groups. The Haggin Museum is rich in collections and exhibits that tell the stories of local and California history. The museum also owns important works by late 19th and early 20th century artists.

Stockton has been culturally and ethnically diverse since its beginning as a muddy-street gold-rush camp. This diverse community includes a large Chinese, Mexican, Japanese, and Filipino population. Today's diversity is reflected in Stockton street names, architecture, and in the faces and heritage of its citizens. Throughout the year, multicultural festivals reflect that diversity in the microcosm that Stockton has become for the world.

DO & SEE

Visit Stockton

Explore some of Stockton's best attractions and things to do during your visit.

Haggin Museum

The Haggin Museum, an art and history museum often referred to by Sunset magazine as "one of the undersung gems of California," showcases a remarkable collection of 19th-century art, including works by Albert Bierstadt, Rosa Bonheur, William-Adolphe Bouguereau, and J.C. Leyendecker, along with other American and European artists. The museum also highlights local and regional history through its exhibits and hosts traveling art and history exhibitions.

Bob Hope (Fox) Theatre

The Bob Hope (Fox California) Theatre in Downtown Stockton, built in 1930, was one of only two "movie palaces" in the Central Valley. Today its 2,042 seats are host to year-round live theater, musicals, concerts, family events, classic cinema and comedy. The Bob Hope Theatre is listed on the National Register of Historical Places and features a marble mosaic floor that encompasses a 1,200 square foot space in the center of the lobby. This marble was imported from Italy and the mosaic was designed by a Canadian artist. The Theatre also features a 1928 Robert Morton theater organ, which came from the Seattle Fox Theatre which closed over 40 years ago. This organ was restored and donated to the theater by The Friends of the Fox, a volunteer organization that has been instrumental in preserving the theater. Check out their website for the calendar of the latest events coming to the Bob Hope Theatre!

Visit Stockton

Stockton's agricultural abundance is on full display at the region's numerous year-round farmers' markets. These markets offer a direct connection to local farms, bringing freshly picked produce straight to your table. Whether shopping for groceries, meeting local growers, or finding organic produce at unbeatable prices, Stockton's farmers' markets provide a feast of fresh ingredients that elevate any recipe.

San Joaquin County Farm Guide

Can't get enough of fresh fruits, vegetables, and nuts? What about homemade pies? How about great drives through some of the most beautiful orchards and farmland anywhere? You've arrived in California's Central Valley, also referred to as "The Greatest Garden in the World" and the "Nation's Salad Bowl" where fresh fruits, vegetables, nuts, and dairy are produced, packaged, and shipped all over the world. Stockton and San Joaquin County have a long history of great agricultural operations. Some of our top crops include almonds, apples, cherries, tomatoes, walnuts, and grapes. The region is also famous for blueberries, nectarines, peaches, and, of course, asparagus. Take a drive through the countryside and stop at the small roadside farm stands. In addition to the freshest local produce you can find, many have homemade baked goods, offer wine tasting, and even make a great lunch.

More Info: Remember, fresh produce is seasonal, so don't expect a lot of activity in the dead of winter. Plan ahead and don't be shy about calling and asking what's in season.

The Fruit Bowl

In operation since 1947, The Fruit Bowl continues to provide the freshest and the best of local produce, baked goods, nuts, jams, local honey and olive oils, and Lodi wines. The Lucchetti family encourages you to stop in and enjoy the bounty of San Joaquin County. They specialize in tree-ripened fruit and fresh vegetables picked daily during the summer season. Just 3-1/2 miles east of Highway 99 on Waterloo Road (Highway 88), The Fruit Bowl is a great place to stop for lunch and enjoy our lawn and shade trees or pick up the perfect imported Italian ingredients to stock your pantry shelves.

Post Office

Sending parcels and letters in the US is a relatively straightforward process. The most common method is through the United States Postal Service (USPS). The USPS offers a variety of services for sending mail, including First-Class Mail for letters and postcards, Priority Mail for packages, and Priority Mail Express for overnight delivery. To send a parcel or letter, you will need to take it to a USPS post office or use a USPS blue collection box. Use the USPS website to find the nearest post office or collection box to your location. Additionally, you can also use private couriers such as FedEx and UPS, which often provide a wider range of services and faster delivery times, but generally at a higher cost.
