A lively multicultural centre, the city is home to a thriving student community and acts as the cultural, gastronomical, and commercial hub of the region, hosting many musical and theatrical events, a wide array of restaurants and bars and eclectic shopping. THE CITY

Velishchuk Yevhen / Shutterstock.com

Wroclaw is one of the prettiest and liveliest cities in Poland, a multicultural city that is home to an important university, a vast array of restaurants and bars, designer shops, theatre and musical events. The Odra River and dozens of little canals that meander through its tree-lined streets with their tall, multi-coloured buildings set the scene. In fact, Wroclaw is made up of no less than 12 islands, joined by over 100 bridges, and simply begs to be explored.

To visit Wroclaw is akin to stepping back in time, and yet the atmosphere is purely cosmopolitan. The city is one of the oldest in Poland, and can trace its history right back to the 7th century when dwellers made Otrów Tumski (Cathedral island) their home. That area is still the centre of activity today.

Residents and visitors alike eat in bistro style restaurants, shop for designer clothes and visit theatre or philharmonic venues. Music is important to Wroclaw, as it is home to more than 50 internationally acclaimed orchestras, choirs and musical societies.

DO & SEE

Creative Travel Projects / Shutterstock.com

Wroclaw has lots to see, including its town hall, widely regarded as one of the finest examples of Gothic architecture in central Europe, and the Hall of Lepoldin, in the University of Wroclaw, which has the largest Baroque interior in Poland. Art lovers can visit the numerous galleries, while visitors who want to enjoy leisurely walks can do so in the mighty Szczytnicki Park – one of a dozen or so parks in the city.

Church of St. Elizabeth

The Church of St. Elizabeth dates back to the 14th century and is one of the oldest churches in Wroclaw. It is located in the Old Town and it is hard to miss, being the tallest building in the area. To reach this the top you will need to climb the 300 steps, but it will be well worth it since it offers a panoramic view of the entire city.

Wrocław-Copernicus Airport (WRO) is situated around 10 kilometres from the city centre, in the south-western part of Wrocław. Getting to and from the airport is easy. The number 106 bus takes visitors straight into the city centre, and the service is frequent, about every 20 minutes. For outbound visitors, buses depart for the airport from the bus stop in Dworcowa Street, near the main railway station. The journey time is about 30 minutes. Alternatively, there are taxis waiting outside the terminal which can take you to the city in about 20 minutes.

Public Transport

Wrocław can easily be navigated on foot or bike, but the city also has an astonishing number of trams and buses that run throughout the city on a frequent basis, with their destinations clearly displayed. Trams do not, however, run during the night, although buses run 24 hours. Timetables are displayed on all tram and bus stops. Tickets (single ride or season tickets) can be bought from vending machines or directly on the buses and trams (card only) and must be validated after boarding.

Taxi

Taxis are available from the Main Railway Station, although it is safer to telephone for a taxi from a company listed in the local telephone directory or ask your hotel so book one. Always confirm the fare before travelling with any company.
